

Mills College
Domestic Study Application

MILLS

Continuing undergraduate students seeking a Mills degree who have a GPA of 3.0 or higher and who have no "Incomplete" grades on their record may participate in a Mills domestic study opportunity during their sophomore or junior year. These programs provide an opportunity for students to study at participating institutions within the United States.

Students must be enrolled in classes at Mills the semester prior to participation in domestic study. Academic credit will be granted according to the Transfer Credit Policy.
